

REPOSE & REVERB

REPOSE...A sensually expressive and serene seating design. REVERB...the persistence of sound after a sound is produced.

OKHA

REPOSE &
REVERB

A sensually sculpted, landscape form, the Repose sofa from OKHA is defined by curvaceous volumes that stretch out like a languid form in repose.

REVERB

“That way of drawing is intuitive and without any predestination, when an interesting form appears you seize it and work with it”

The form is subtly asymmetric, the seat depth also varied as the form of the sofa unfolds. The arching back rest emerges from a central plateau and spans out from a central, vacant space and curves gracefully to create elegantly banking arms and backrests both left and right.

REVERB is an evolution of the Repose sofa narrative, it continues the exploration of organic form; of fluid seating landscapes and of sculptural dialogue. The focus and essence of the sofa is its nuanced echo of left and right forms, not a mirror image but a reverberation of one form creating a similar other, hence REVERB

SENSUAL AESTHETIC

Viewed from all angles, REVERB appears as a free-flowing stream of consciousness simultaneously intuitive and predestined. The seating configuration and gentle apex form of the sofa encourage engagement between sitters; it is a design which provokes, stimulates and inspires interaction.

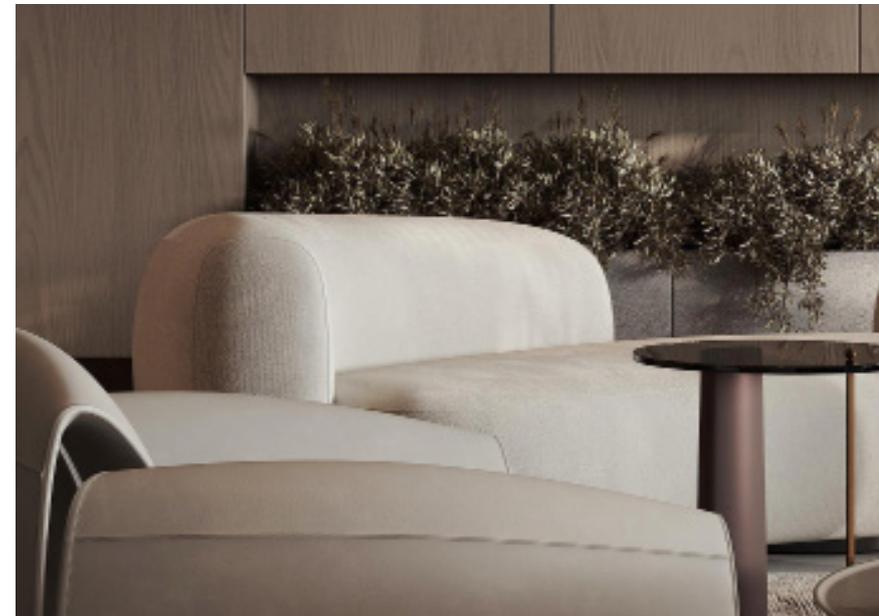

REVERB is created when a sound, signal or frequency is reflected off a surface causing numerous reflections to build up.

REVERB

Echo. Ripple.
Reverberation.
